H. G. WELLS'S NEW NOVEL

THE PASSIONATE FRIENDS 6s.

[Ready.]
Athenæum.—"The character of Mary is the finest and most complex that Mr. Wells has ever created. . . . As we lay down the book, our thoughts turn once more to the sweet and noble figure of his heroine, unconscious martyr to a cause which has yet to come to the front of life before complete civilisation is reached—the making possible of friendship between man and woman—l'amitié impossible."

THOMAS HARDY

A Changed Man, The Waiting Supper, and other Tales, concluding with The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. By THOMAS HARDY. Extra Crown 8vo. 6s.

MAURICE HEWLETT'S New Novel

Bendish: A Study in Prodigality. 6s.
The World.—"Considered as a work of deliberate, delicate, highly finished art, Mr. Maurice Hewlett has probably done nothing better than this his latest book."

WARWICK GOBLE'S NEW COLOUR BOOK.

COLLECTED WORKS OF FRANCIS THOMPSON

IN THREE VOLUMES, two of Poetry and one of Prose. Edited, with some Notes, by his Literary Executor. In this definitive edition of Thompson's work, about one-fourth of the Poetry, and nearly all the Prose, is new to book-form. With three portraits in photogravure—after an early photograph, and hitherto unpublished drawings by the Hon. Neville Lytton and Everard Meynell. Demy 8vo, printed on rag paper, special buckram gilt, bevelled boards. The volumes are everywhere obtainable, singly or in sets. Price 6s. net each. Fifth Thousand.

THE LIFE OF FRANCIS THOMPSON

BY EVERARD MEYNELL. One volume, demy 8vo, buckram gilt, bevelled boards. With Seven portraits in Photogravure, and Six other Illustrations. Price 15s. net. For this, the authoritative Life of Francis Thompson, the Poet's Diaries, Note Books, and Letters have been freely used, so that much of the story is told in his own words. In these pages will be told for the first time the story of the great poet who was a "spoiled priest" and an unsuccessful medical student; who went for a soldier and fled to the streets of London; who was there by turns a vendor of newspapers, a caller of cabs, a boot-black, and a boot-maker's errand boy; and whose street compositions found him friends and finally fame.

One Volume. Ready at the end of October. Prospectus on application

"Questions of Sex" Series

One of the few things that may be called certain in life is the fact that at some time and somehow light on the questions of sex comes to all boys and girls; and unless the light comes in such a way as to reveal the beauty and sacredness of sex, irreparable harm will be done. There is, therefore, an evident need for conscientious, healthy, and clean-spoken books on the subject. Written by eminent professional men and women whose duties have brought them into almost daily contact with the problems with which they deal, the "Questions of Sex" books are clean, healthy, scientific, and direct answers to the questions that must be answered.

Noteworthy New and Forthcoming Volumes.

From Naval Cadet to Admiral

By ADMIRAL SIR R. H. HARRIS, K.C.M.G., K.C.B. With 12 pages of Illustrations. Medium 8vo. Admiral Harris has much of interest to tell us. His Naval career extends over half a century. His book teems with personal touches. There are also illuminating and interesting chapters on great events in History, such as the Cretan troubles of 1897 and the last Boer War. 12s. net

The Country of "The Ring and the Book"

By SIR FREDERICK TREVES, Bart., G.C.V.O., C.B., LL.D. Not only Browning lovers, but all who love a book rich in descriptive colour, will welcome Sir Frederick Treves' new work, devoted to the tragedy which Browning deals with in his great poem. The author minutely describes the country, and concludes with a criticism which throws quite a new light upon Browning's masterpiece. 15s. net

Sketches from Nature

By JOHN MACWHIRTER, R.A. With 24 Colour Plates and 24 Sketches in Half-tone on grey paper. Crown 4to. A collection of colour and pencil notes made in Italy and Scotland by this most popular of landscape painters. 6s. net

Lady Hester Lucy Stanhope

A New Light on Her Life and Love Affairs. By FRANK HAMEL. With 20 Illustrations, including Portraits, Views, Facsimiles of Letters, etc. Medium 8vo. The present volume should do much to dispel the mystery that for so long has enshrouded the name of that extraordinary character, Lady Hester Stanhope and will account in a large measure for her long self-exile in the East. 15s. net

Australia from a Woman's Point of View

By JESSIE ACKERMANN, F.R.S.G.S. With 64 half-tone Illustrations. Extra Crown 8vo. Written by one who knows Australia in almost its every aspect. Never before has there been such a frank criticism of Australian methods and manners. The comments are frank and fearless. 6s.

The Rose Book

By H. H. THOMAS, assisted by WALTER EASLEA. With 3 Photographs and 64 Illustrations. Large Crown 8vo. This, the latest volume dealing with the most popular of garden flowers, forms a complete guide for the amateur rose grower. The text is profusely illustrated with sketches showing how to prune, etc. 6s. net

Cassell's Natural History

By F. MARTIN DUNCAN, F.R.M.S., F.R.P.S. With 16 Colour Plates and over 200 other Illustrations. Medium 8vo. Essentially a popular book, inasmuch as it is written in simple language and contains explanations of all scientific terms that are used, this is nevertheless a book for every natural history student. 9s. net

Electricity in the Service of Man

Volume II, Section I. By R. MULLINEUX WALMSLEY, D.Sc. With full-page Plates and hundreds of other Illustrations. The first volume having dealt exhaustively with the "History and Principles of Electrical Science," the second deals with the "Technology of Electricity," which falls into two main divisions—namely, "The Generation, Transmission, and Utilisation of Electrical Power," and "The Practical Applications of Small Electric Currents." 7s. 6d. net

The "All About" Series

A Series of Useful Volumes for Boys. Uniform, each profusely Illustrated. 6s.

All About Engineering By GORDON D. KNOX

Written by an author who knows his subject thoroughly and has also a wide experience in presenting scientific and technical subjects in a popular and readable form. It tells how the Nile Dam was constructed, how virgin soil is broken up, how water was brought to the desert goldfields of Australia, how the Forth Bridge was built—in short, how all the great engineering wonders of the world have been accomplished. With Two Coloured Plates and numerous Illustrations. Cloth Gilt, Coloured Edges.

THE FOUNDATIONS OF DUTY

OR MAN'S DUTY TO GOD, HIS
FELLOWMEN, AND HIMSELF

By the Right Rev. J. W. DIGGLE, D.D.
Bishop of Carlisle.

The underlying theme of this book is that man, being by nature a compound creature, made up in his present condition of elements, physical, social, and divine—each closely related to, and interpenetrating the others—his duties to God, his fellows, and himself naturally and necessarily follow from the very fact of his compound constitution.

THE Nelson Announcements

NOW READY.

The Marquis of Montrose

JOHN BUCHAN.

With 16 full-page illustrations in Photogravure, and 11 Maps and Plans of Battles.

Cloth, gilt top, 7s. 6d. net.

Mr. Buchan has produced a careful study of the career of one who was probably the greatest Scottish soldier. He has told the story of Montrose as it should be told—as a straightforward narrative, which exceeds in interest the most fantastic romance. The campaigns are followed in detail, and an attempt is made to estimate Montrose's work, both as a statesman and as a soldier.

"Mr. Buchan has written a brilliant and sympathetic sketch of Montrose, full of information, and distinguished both by its style and by its insight."—The Times.

"We commend Mr. Buchan's book as a thoroughly sound piece of historical work, well written."—The Athenaeum.

"It has remained for Mr. Buchan, a scholar with the true instinct for the heroic in history, to retell the thrilling story with the ardour of a downright admirer and to throw upon the most dramatic chapter in Scottish annals the subjective glow and colour which are never more natural than in the case of a figure like Montrose. . . . In this book he has given a superb historical vesture to a hero who deserves our lasting homage, and whose memory almost sweetens the dreadful name of war."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"It is well that to so capable an author as Mr. John Buchan should have fallen the pleasant task of telling anew the story of the life of Montrose, for he has proved himself a master both in the writing of history clearly and with sufficient fullness, yet with something of the swiftness and colour of a story."—Daily Telegraph.

The Great Armada

RICHARD HALE.

Cloth, gilt top, fully illustrated, 5s. net.

In this new volume the author makes a careful historical study of the origin, progress, and defeat of the famous expedition which Philip of Spain launched against England in the "spacious times of Great Elizabeth." He deals with a subject of which patriotic Englishmen never weary, but he does so in a novel and attractive manner, taking advantage of the recent discoveries connected with the fate of the foundered ships of the Spanish fleet.

T. & T. CLARK'S NEW BOOKS.

INTRODUCTION TO THE BOOKS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

By Ven. Archdeacon WILLOUGHBY C. ALLEN, M.A., and Rev. L. W. GRENFED, M.A., B.D. 5s. net.
A concise "Introduction" to the New Testament is greatly desired at the present time. The Authors of this volume are both engaged in the work of preparing Candidates for Holy Orders, and the "Introduction" is primarily intended to meet the need of such students. It is desirable that students should be encouraged to study the contents of the New Testament at first hand, and to feel that no reading of manuals can take the place of this.

The Times on the Fifth Volume:—

"The fifth volume is a further proof of the Editor's skill in organization and his ability to carry out his programme without delay, though he is dependent on the help of an army of writers. He and the publishers are to be congratulated on the steady progress of their great encyclopædia and the uniformly high character it maintains. Everything is written with skill by men well qualified for the work assigned to them."

IRISH LITERARY AND MUSICAL STUDIES. By ALFRED PERCEVAL GRAVES, President of the Irish Literary Society. Crown 8vo, 250 pp., 6s. net. Essays contributed to the "Contemporary" and "Dublin Reviews," "The Cornhill Magazine," and "The Spectator" on Mangan, Ferguson, Le Fanu, Ailingham, Bunting, George Petrie, Early Irish Religious Poetry, Religious Songs of Connacht, Celtic Nature Poetry, The Preteritural in Early Irish Poetry, etc.

COLERIDGE AND WORDSWORTH IN THE WEST COUNTRY. Their Early Friendships and Surroundings. By Prof. KNIGHT, LL.D. With 18 Illustrations by EDMUND H. NEW. Demy 8vo, 256 pp. 7s. 6d. An important contribution to Coleridgean literature, including much original and inedited material.

ENJOYMENT OF POETRY. By MAX EASTMAN, Lecturer at Columbia University. Crown 8vo, 240 pp. 4s. 6d. net. These papers contain a close analysis of poetic impulse in perception, in conversation, and in literature, which the Author holds to be one and the same. He traces the main impulses of the human mind—towards material or imaginative realisation—and illustrates them in the very beginnings of experience, in the play of children, in the origin and growth of language, in slang, etc., and finally in books of poetry and science.

ANOTHER BOOK OF THE SIRENS. By RATHMELL WILSON, Fcap. 8vo. 2s. 6d. net. "Mr. Wilson has 'the café temperament' with its gaiety, sparkle, and happy recklessness, and he has the dainty wit and fancy of the poet."—Literary World.

Just Ready. Uniform Edition in Three Vols., in blue dungarees. Crown 8vo. 3s. 6d. net each.

JOHN MASEFIELD'S FAMOUS SEA-CHANTIES AND YARNS.

(ii) A MAINSAIL HAUL. A Revised and greatly enlarged Edition. Finely printed at the Chiswick Press. 204 pp. [Fourth thousand.]

(iii) BALLADS AND POEMS. 104 pp.

A writer in the Pall Mall Gazette said of these chauties and yarns:—"It would take a mixture of Smollett and Marryat, Dana, Tom Cringle, McAndrews, and the old sea balladists, as well as the daredevilry of the mariners in Hakluyt, to give us an equivalent to the humour and abandon of these exploits in sailor-lingo."

WAR & PEACE

"A NORMAN ANGELL MONTHLY."

3d.

THE creation of a new attitude towards War, chiefly associated with the name of Norman Angell, has been the most remarkable feature of recent political thought. National advantage is being revalued in the light of changed ideas, and principles that have an application to a wide range of political problems are being elucidated. The movement for investigating the new point of view and the demand for a fuller and saner discussion of vital questions has taken root all over this country as well as in Germany, France, and the United States, but it has hitherto lacked continuous expression. This deficiency War and Peace hopes to supply.

The Editors, while taking their stand upon the philosophy expounded by Mr. Norman Angell, will not confine themselves to a blind belief in his ipsissima verba, but recognise that his ideas are capable of extension and development, notably as tending to establish certain principles of general political action, which may have important bearing upon other than international questions.

The first list of Contributors includes:—

Norman Angell,	G. K. Chesterton,
F. W. Hirst,	Sir Harry Johnston,
Lord Loreburn,	Ed. D. Morel,
Alfred Noyes,	J. M. Robertson,
Rt. Hon. Russell Rea,	Charles Trevelyan, etc., etc.

The number of Articles treated would seem incredible if one did not bear in mind their concise character. No subject which receives any treatment, beyond the slightest, even in the largest encyclopaedias has been omitted, and many that are not mentioned in the most recent have articles allotted to them. The simple form, the thin opaque paper used, and the anticipation of a large sale enable the Publishers to issue THE NEW ENCYCLOPAEDIA at a very low price.

Myths of the Hindus and Buddhists.

By Sister NIVEDITA and ANANDA COOMARASWAMY.

With Thirty-two Illustrations in Four Colours (Some in Four Colours and Gold) by NANDA LALL BOSE, A. N. TAGORE, K. VENKATAPPA, and other Indian Artists, under the Direction of ABANINDRO NATH TAGORE.

Size 6½ x 9½ in. 440 Pages Letterpress, Bound in Cloth Extra, Gilt top, Price 15s. net. Bound in Full Calf, appropriately Decorated and Tooled, Boxed, Price 25s. net.

Limited Edition—75 Numbered Copies printed on Japanese Vellum. Bound in Full Vellum, Price £5 5s. net.

This volume is a genuine product of the East. The gifted authoress, Sister Nivedita, had long been so intimately associated with Hindu life and sentiment that at the time of her sudden death at Calcutta in 1912, when she was engaged upon this task, she was regarded by natives throughout India as all but one of themselves. Her book was completed by the distinguished Ceylonese scholar, Dr. Coomaraswamy, and has been illustrated by Native Artists, whose work will decidedly amaze European lovers of art. It is a revelation of the stirring of a new life in Indian Art, and suggests possibilities of development beyond anything hoped for until this moment.

CLAIRDELUNE,

and other Troubadour Romances.

Told by MICHAEL WEST. Illuminated and Illustrated by EVELYN PAUL. Music by ALFRED MERCER.

Size, 10 x 7½ in. Bound in Cloth Extra, Gilt top, Price 10s. 6d. net. Bound in Antique Brown Leather in original style, to represent Handwork, Boxed, Price 17s. 6d. net.

Limited Edition—75 Numbered Copies, printed on Japanese Vellum in unique binding, Boxed, Price £3 3s. net.

These stories are not translations of Troubadour Romances, but have been inspired by them. They contain the simple tenderness and deep sincerity of feeling characteristic of the Medieval Romance, but emphatically they are far more than imitations. It is not often that an Author is fortunate enough to have his first book presented to the world in this luxurious manner, but the Publishers believe that the beauty and charm of these stories fully deserve the setting which has been provided. They have co-operated with the Artist in making a book which should be, in its format, as true to the spirit of the Middle Ages as are the stories themselves, and they believe that the product of these joint labours will be appreciated by all who admire good literature and originality of presentation.
